Rancho Woodshop Spring Yard Projects Sale

It's that time of the year to get your yard spring ready. The Rancho woodshop is taking orders for this semester's spring yard project offerings. Students have worked all semester to build various projects and you can help our school community by purchasing these items. Any purchases that require delivery can possibly be delivered by our woodshop upperclassmen for a small delivery fee, depending on delivery location & how many projects need to be delivered. Please notify us if you would like delivery when ordering. Click HERE to order. A $30 deposit or full payment is also required in order to secure your order. Checks made payable to the Rancho Cotate Woodshop are preferable, cash accepted as well.

Rancho Cotate High School Colorguard and Drumline

This weekend was the NCBA (northern California band association) winter championships for indoor drumline and colorguard. We hit some milestones that have never before been reached by Rancho Cotate High School.

Colorguard: This season the Rancho Cotate High School winter colorguard had an undefeated season and won the NCBA National Triple A championships! This division achievement and championship title at this level has not happened at RCHS in our 16 years of doing winter activities. Colorguard ended their season with an 82.85 (a very high score for colorguard). 49 high school color guards competed this Saturday at the NCBA championships.

Drumline: This season the RCHS drumline went to four competitions. We took first at San Mateo High School winter review, Third Place at the Antelope High School winter review, and first place at the foothill winter review. Then to finish our season, drumline came in second place at the NCBA championship review at Rodriguez High School this past Sunday. Drumline finished their season with a score of 84.98 (also a high score) in the Regional A division. Out of 35 ensembles, there were only two groups that score higher than us, one of which was not in our division. The drumline will finish their season on April 15th in the Stockton arena competition in the NCPA (Northern California Percussion Alliance) circuit.

If you have an RCHS drumline or colorguard student in your class, feel free to congratulate them for a fantastic winter season!

Homeshow Saturday: Also, a friendly reminder about our home show on April 8th (Saturday) at 6 pm. The drumline and colorguard will be performing their winter shows in the RCHS Tag Gym. There is no admission charge to get in, but we recommend a donation of $5 to $10 at the door. The proceeds go towards the RCHS winter drumline and colorguard budget for the 2023 season.

You're Invited

Join us for the first annual Reclassification Ceremony on April 27 at 6:30 pm @TAG gymnasium.

This ceremony will recognize all students who have worked hard to redesignate themselves as English proficient.

We would love to have you attend this event to support the students that you have helped with in the process of redesignation.

Please RSVP to Rita Baltazar, District Liaison at (707) 867-2314. Please include yourself and your guest(s).

Enjoy your weekend
